BANK RESOURCES OVER 5 MILLION

"Our Town"

by J. B. WHITE

When people come up to you and say, "You've put on some weight, haven't you?" and you go home and look at yourself in the mirror and conclude they are right and that you are losing your figure rapidly and must do something drastic to preserve it;

And decide that you had better cut down on your food, and when you go out to dinner take only half a potato and only one helping of peas and meat and, when urged to take more say, "Oh, thanks very much, but I have had the greatest abundance;"

And when dessert comes on you conclude that you have showed such self-restraint that you really owe it to yourself to eat all of the ice cream and, in addition, you take a teentsy-piece of cake;

And everybody says that you haven't eaten enough to feed a sparrow and you insist that you have had the greatest plenty and try to make yourself believe that you are not hungry at all;

And when you go to breakfast in the morning you limit yourself to one egg instead of two and cut out the cereal and take only six slices of buttered toast; so thin they are almost nothing, and not more than a speck of marmalade;

And at lunch you pass up the pastries and rolls and buns and potatoes and rice and content yourself with lettuce and a couple of slices of tomato;

And, on the whole, it is a great deprivation, but you say to yourself, that in view of the object to be achieved it is quite worthwhile, and that perhaps after a short time you will get accustomed to this self-denial, or that very likely you will waste away to such an extent that soon you will have to eat great quantities of everything in order to catch up, and won't that be swell!;

Isn't it discouraging to go to the scales and discover that, in spite of all you have done and the sacrifice you have made, you have actually put on three pounds!

Young people who are in the schools and colleges this year are as fine specimens as the country ever produced. They not only are mentally superior, they are physically better. Records of physical culture departments prove this.

Men and women have been growing taller in recent years. The average increase of stature is well established and is consistent. It is the logical result of better home conditions; better health safeguards; better understanding of requirements of diet, and a more ample and diversified food supply.

Whether the improvement is general for the entire population is not

NEW DEEP TEST SPUDS IN AREA At MARAK GETS NEW PLAY

Development in Cameron's prospective oil territory was moving off well with the beginning of the New Year.

Sam Hohenstein, venteran scout and oil man, announced that the Bartek No. 1 had been spudded in in west Cameron and was under full drilling speed. The well was down about 500 feet Wednesday. Derrick was erected and casing set in December.

The well is located 1500 feet east of the Birdwell test that came in showing strong with oil. This well is known as the Marak well because located in the vicinity of the Marak community and church. Alex Krause is drilling the test.

Mr. Hohenstein said that progress was good on the No. 2 test on Chas. McDermott farm east of Cameron, a location made by Hohenstein. This well is drilled as an offset to the Posey No. 1 which blew in some years ago a strong gasser.

Oil showing in the Birdwell test has led Hohenstein and associates to believe that west of the city may be found a paying dirt so long pronounced by local geologists.

$4,938,000 IN CASH REPORT HERE SHOWS

Conbined resources of Cameron banks were rocketing to an all time high as the call came from the government for statements issued as of December 31st.

The grand total was $5,432,386.33 The unusual liquid condition of the banks makes this statement remarkable in the history of local institutions The cash reserves of the banks was almost equal to the total resources. The safety and soundness of the banks was never more pronounced than at this time. Only a little more than $400,000 is under loan. The capital stocks of the banks shows a total of only $170,000 while the cash quickly available is listed at $4,938,313.60. Thus it will be seen that the banks have at hand almost five million dollars in cash.

Total deposits of the Cameron banks in shown at $5,123,197.64

Loans are low, decreasing the liabilities of the banks and making more solvent the institutions how commanding a position of great progress among the banks of the state.

Significant of the New Year were ready fonas to finance farm operations. Generally it was said that commercial demands were at an all time low. Money in the sense of its acceptance as a commodity was shorn of market possibilities. Thus Cameron banks were in the peak of financial strength with ample reserves and available cash and resources.

A CITIZEN'S CREED

I BELIEVE in my COMMUNITY, my STATE and my Country.

I THANK GOD I am an AMERICAN and a TEXAN.

I BELIEVE that MEN play a bigger part in town-building than natural resources, and that cities are what men make them.

I am willing to give of my TIME, THOUGHT, ENERGY and MONEY to help advance the welfare of my community, in return for the great blessings I enjoy.

I am NOT AFRAID that my competitor will make more money than I will as the town grows.

I will not be a SPONGE, taking all I can get and giving as little as possible.

I want to LIVE in my town so that I can leave as a heritage, the memory of some SERVICE for the benefit of the community.

I believe that MY RECORD on earth will be largely my record as a citizen of THIS TOWN.

I believe in the SUCCESS of my community and want to have it said of me that I PLAYED MY PART WELL.

I believe in the SINCERITY if other citizens, and will not indulge in BACK-BITING, SLANDER or "KNOCKING" against my town or my neighbors.

I am PROUD of MY TOWN and want to live so that the town may be PROUD of ME.

I will advance the FAME of my town by doing MY JOB the best I can . . . and perhaps better than it is being done ANYWHERE ELSE.

I will INVEST my LIFE where I make my LIVING.

HERBERT M. HARRISON,
President East Texas Chamber of Commerce.

We Give Both Sides

What the legislature of Texas does is of interest to all the people and that means Cameron people. A recent court decision based on a law enacted 6 years ago which in effect prohibits business men from operating trucks, has created a serious situation in Texas. This week the Herald gives space to the other side of the question. Merchants are complaining. The railroads have likewise been treated fairly in these columns. The whole question will be thrashed out in the session coming up next week. Lobbying places the people squarely up against a serious problem. Your local representatives will be glad to see these matters settled for the benefit of the whole people and without violence to the interests of any. READ THE HERALD.

The lock had been prized from the container and the silver is missing.

FARM CLUB NEWS

The County Agricultural and Home Demonstration councils are being called for a joint meeting in the District Court room of the County Court House at 2:00 o'clock p. m. on Thursday Jan. 7, according to announcements made by Miss Porter, Home Demonstration Agent and Mr. Banzhaf, County Agricultural Agent.

The purpose of this meeting will be to plan for a County-wide series of committee meetings where farmers and farm home-makers will be asked to make estimates on land use on their farms. These estimates from individual farms in Milam County will be compiled here and forwarded to College Station, where they will be assembled together with estimates from all other Texas counties and sent to Washington, D. C. In Washington, this information will be assembled on a Nation-wide basis and will be used as a guide in future farm programs.

A joint committee from the two councils will be selected at the coming meeting to have charge of the work in Milam County.

The County Planning Committee, acting on information developed in the meeting and from the Farm Plan Sheets, will co-operate with the County Agricultural Conservation Committee in making recommendations for the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program in the county; formulate goals for a sound, long-time Loan Use Program; and later make recommendations for the 1938 Agricultural Program in the light of the goals developed.

Agricultural practices suitable to the county and in a general way to the State and administrative machinery will also be the subject of consideration and recommendation for County Planning Committees.

The end toward which this activity is working is to secure from farmers, themselves, estimates of what land use would be in Texas if all farms were operated so as to maintain soil fertility and prevent soil erosion.

When affected by the dull headache, the drowsiness and lassitude caused by constipation, I take Black-Draught."

MARBLE MACHINES IN CITY CLOSED DOWN

Milam county marble machine owners are awaiting the action of the court of civil appeals in Waco Monday on the marble machine question. Marble machines have been left standing in the business places of this city, but have been tied up, making it impossible for the machines to be played.

The latter part of September, 1936, Sheriff Max Kennedy and Prosecuting Attorney Emory B. Camp requested marble machine owners in this county to remove the marble machines from public places. On Oct. 4, an injunction was issued by Judge Fountain H. Kirby of the 77th district court at Groesbeck, restraining Prosecuting Attorney Camp and Sheriff Kennedy from molesting the marble machines in this county.

A case similar to the Milam county situation occurred in Houston just prior to the one in Milam county. The Houston case is the one to be heard in Waco Monday. The action taken in the Houston case will apply to the Milam county case, Prosecuting Attorney Camp declared.

Unemployment Compensation in Texas

Editor's Note—Following are questions and answers prepared by R. B. Anderson, chairman-director of the Texas Unemployed Compensation Commission, which is an interpretation in simplified terms of the various provisions of the recently-enacted Texas Unemployment Comepnsation Act.

Further questions and answers in this series will appear in this paper from time to time.

When Benefits to Workers Begin

Question 1:—"When will the payment benefits to workers start under the Texas Unemployed Comepnsation Act."

Answer:—Payments will begin on January 1, 1938. This is a very important fact for every employee to remember. Why? Because your possible compensation, if you become unemployed during 1938, will be figured on the basis of your employment record during 1937.

If you have steady employment during 1937, you will be entitled to more benefits in case you lose your job in 1938. On the other hand, if your employment record for 1937 is poor, your compensation will be strictly limited until you have improved your record of employment.

Just how this system of "credits" works will be fully explained in a later article. The important fact to remember now is this—your employment record during 1937 will have an important bearing on the credits you build up.

Unemployment compensation may be compared to a savings account. Until you have put somthing in, you cannot draw anything out.

You, as a worker, will want to understand the other sections of the Texas law so that you will know what to do to build up the best possible record. The aim of unemployment compensation is to keep men in jobs. This fact will become clearer as these articles proceed.

What Benefits Can I Expect?

Question 2:—As an employee, suppose I become unemployed in 1938. What benefits may I expect when the Commission begins payments to the unemployed?

Answer:—In the first place, you must realize that to receive any benefits at all, you must meet certain eligibility requirements. Questions concerning these eleigibility requirements will be discussed later.

But suppose that you are eligible. The law sets up a maximum and a minimum for benfits, but the average rate of benefits is 50 per cent of the weekly wage.

With the following examples, you may take your own present wage and determine just what you could expect to receive if you become unemployed:

(1) All persons who have a wage of more than $30 a week will receive the maximum benefits—$15.00 a week.

(2) Those whose wage falls between $10 a week and $30 a week will receive an amount equal to one-half their weekly wage. If your pay was $20 a week, your benefit, if totally unemployed, will be $10.

(3) Those whose wage is between $10 a week and $6.25 a week are entitled to benefits of $5 a week. Those whose wage is less than $6.25 a week will receive an amount to three-fourths of the weekly wage. If you are getting $6 a week and become unemployed, then you will get $4.50 a week.

The Effect of Part-Time Work on Benefits

Question 3:—"Suppose I lose my job, but had a chance to get another at considerably less money, say a part time job. Would my taking the part-time job deprive me of benefits? In other words, could I make more money by not working?"

Answer:—As was said before, this law was designed to encourage employment, not unemployment. Therefore, it has been worked out so that the man with part-time work will have a larger income than the man who is totally unemployed.

You are eligible for limited benefits if you are "partially unemployed." The law says a man is partially unemployed when he earns, in a new job, an amount "less than six-fifths" of the amount he would have received in compensation had he been unable to find part-time work.

Example: Suppose you were making $30 a week and lost your job. Being totally unemployed, you would be entitled to $15 per week as compensation. However, you get a part-time job paying $18 per week. The sum of $18 equals exactly six-fifths of $15; therefore, you would not be entitled to any benefits.

But if your new wage is only $12, your wage is less than six-fifths of the compensation you are entitled to. There fore, you are entitled to "partial employment benefits." The question now is—"How much will I get?"

The law says that in such cases the benefit shall be an amount equal to the difference between the possible weekly benefit ($15 in your case) and five-fifths of your new wage. Your new wage is $12. Five-fifths of $12 is $10.

The difference between $15 and $10 is $5, which would be the amount of your benefit. Now, this $5 added to your wage of $12 gives you a total income of $17.

Therefore, it paid you to get part-time employment.

If you have any questions concerning the various phases of this law as it affects employers or workers, you can have your questions answered by writing to R. B. Anderson, chairman, Texas Unemployed Compensation Commission, Austin.

For Bad Feeling
Due to Constipation

Get rid of constipation by taking Black-Draught as soon as you notice that bowel activity has slowed up or you begin to feel sluggish. Thousands prefer Black-Draught for the refreshing relief it has brought them. Mrs. Ray Mullins, of Lafe, Ark., writes: "My husband and I both take Thedford's Black-Draught and find it splendid for constipation, biliousness, and the disagreeable, aching, tired feeling that comes from this condition." With reference to Syrup of Black-Draught, which this mother gives her children, she says: "They like the taste and it gave such good results."

City Seeks Tax On Marble Tables

City of Cameron was uncertain of its goal here Wednesday over an ordinance recently enacted levying a tax on marble machines in the city.

Injunction proceedings throughout the state were responsible for uncertainties. Whether machines will be permitted to operate remains a matter of court action.

In the meantime machines were wired up and taken out of operation.

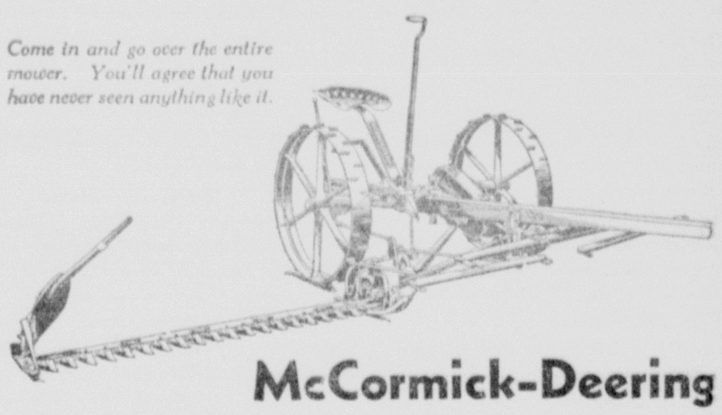
Come in and go over the entire mower. You'll agree that you have never seen anything like it.



McCormick-Deering No. 7 Enclosed-Gear Mower

WE are anxious to have all of our friends see the New McCormick-Deering No. 7 Enclosed-Gear Mower. We think it is one of the finest pieces of farm equipment we have ever sold!

Everybody who has seen it says they never had any idea that a mower could be built as this one is.

For example: The entire operating mechanism, including drive gears, differential, and countershafts, is assembled compactly in an oil-tight gear housing and runs in a bath of oil. There are four high-grade roller bearings. Operation is so smooth and noiseless that you can scarcely hear the light hum of the sickle!

Special oil seals at the ends of the main axle and flywheel shaft, and the oil-tight gear box prevent leakage and protect all working parts against the entrance of dirt and other abrasive materials. Floating action of cutter bar provides ample play without disturbing knife registration.

The 1937 Legislature

(Editor's Note: This article is published as a news item, and represents the personal views of Mr. Ferguson only.)

* * *

The 45th legislature of Texas will meet in the capitol city of Austin on Jaunuary 12th. This session will be the most interesting and eventful in a generation. Important legislation will engage the legislative minds to their fullest capacity and they will face many problems.

Many Young Ones

The make up and personnel of the legislature is unique. The reocrd shows that of the 150 members of the House 50 are under the age of 30 and 50 under the age of 40 and the last 50 are over 50, including only 20 over 55 and only one exceeds the three score and ten. There is one blind Representaive and one blind Senator in the legislature who are efficient members. They are not bedazzled with the swish of silk or the flattery of fools.

Problems Aplenty

There are mementous questions that will demand consideration as well as the usual great number of worthless bills that are always thrown in the legislative hopper. With the 50 young members who are under 30 years of age and who will be serving their first time, it can be expected that personal ambition will have much to do with the general trend of legislation. My opinion is that these very young men will be more conservative than most people expect. Most of them have had good educational advantages and they will realize the danger of trying to build Rome in a day or a politicial record in one session of the legislature.

Many Expect much from Young Members

While some remarks have already been made about a "kid" legislature, I look for these young men, coming under the tongue of good report from their home counties, to act cautiously and counsel freely with the older members of the House in formulating their legislative policy. The older members have had the opportunity in previous sessions to observe the eagerness of youth to too quickly build a record, and they will no doubt endeavor to give the young men the benefit of their experience in approaching the solution of the many issues that are sure to arise. For the good of all let us hope that there will be much harmony in the session, about to convene. I do not mean to say complete harmony, because that might result in doing too little and might fail to develop a full discussion necessary for full understanding.

Legislation to Cover Many Subjects

Old age pension, social security, natural resources, sales tax, ad valorem, tenant farmer legislation, unemployed relief, appropriations and taxation, and the relation of the State to Federal government, topped off with a good big row over liquor and horse racing will be among the very important and pressing questions that are sure to knock at the doors of both House and Senate with a loud clamor for attention.

Eleven New Senators

There are eleven new faces in the Senate, and there are some bright minds among the number who have some very pronounced views on legislation. Already there is talk heard about a Senatorial block that will claim the right to be heard, and nobody will be surprised if an explosion occurs. In the meantime the older heads are keeping their heads cool and their powder dry, waiting to see what will show up.

If I am permitted to speak, I advise all members of the legislature, both House and Senate, to inform yourselves on the merits and demerits of these important questions and let the trash drift on, and if this plan is followed, you can hope to have some part in doing what the people sent you to Austin to do.

To Write Column

Since the Ferguson Forum was suspended I have received a great many requests to continue my feeble remarks through the columns of the city and country press. As much as my time will permit, I shall respond to this request, especially during the coming session of the Texas legislature.

As I live here in the State Capital, it is convenient for me to get early and first hand information as to what is being said and done and the effect thereof.

Subscribe for your local paper and look for this column each week. I am going to tell you all about the big "doin's at Austin.

Nervous, Weak Woman Soon All Right

"I had regular shaking spells from nervousness," writes Mrs. Cora Sanders, of Paragould, Ark. "I was all run-down and cramped at my time until I would have to go to bed. After my first bottle of Cardui, I was better. I kept taking Cardui and soon I was all right. The shaking quit and I did not cramp. I felt worlds better. I gave Cardui to my daughter who was in about the same condition and she was soon all right."

$195,195,000 PAID TO COTTONSEEED GROWERS

Cottonseed, once a waste product brought Southern farmers $195,195,000 in 1936 as a result of the best price since 1927-28, according to official Department of Agriculture estimates, just released.

Southern cotton growers received $45,712,000 more for their 1936 cottonseed production than for their 1935 crop, an analysis of the Department's figures made by A. L. Ward, Educational Service Director of the National Cottonseed Products Association, shows.

Farmers' income from cottonseed increased 32.3 per cent in 1936 over the 1935 total of $147,483,000.

Best Prices Since 1927.

In spite of a larger crop than in 1935, cotton oil mills paid Southern growers a higher average price for their cottonseed than at any time since the 1927-28 season, Ward pointed out.

The average price of cottonseed in the United States during the 1936 marketing period was $35.41 per ton, the Department of Agriculture estimated. This compares with $31.19, the average for the 1935 crop, and is the highest average since that of $35.94 paid during the 1927-28 season.

Cotton oil mills paid growers a price in 1936 that was higher even than the average for 1928-29, at the peak of the prosperity period. The 1936 average of $35.41 compares with the average of $35.26 for the 1928-29 season.

Cottonseed prices in 1936, as compared with 1935, showed considerably greater percentage increase than the price of lint cotton. The percentage rise over 1935 for lint cotton was 10.9 per cent, while the average price of cottonseed rose 13.5 per cent.

Total Crop Larger

Production of cottonseed in 1936 amounted to 5,513,000 tons compared with 4,729,000 tons in 1935, the Department reported.

A major factor in the greater return received by Southern growers for their cottonseed has been the higher value of cottonseed oil, Ward pointed out. Cottonseed oil, widely used in vegetable shortening, margarine, salad oils and other products, usually constitutes more than half of the total value of the seed.

"Even greater revenue from their cottonseed may be expected by Southern farmers if they, with the aid of other American fats and oils producers, can secure the removal of present restrictions against the sale of margarine, a feed containing cottonseed oil and other American products," Ward said. "Taxes and license fees, both Federal and in many States, unfairly restrict domestic margarine sales and the market for Southern cottonseed oil, beef fats, soybean and peanut oils, and similar products."

FORD
advances into 1937 with the LOWEST PRICE IN YEARS
and new operating economy

THE ADDITION of a new 60-horsepower engine to the Ford line for 1937 brings you a new, low price and gives you a choice of two V-type 8-cylinder engines, 85 horsepower for maximum performance, 60 horsepower for maximum economy.

The 60-horsepower V-8 engine was originally developed for use in England and France, where fuel costs are high. It has been proven there for two years with brilliant success. Now, brought to America, it creates an entirely new standard of modern motoring economy!

The "60" engine, available in five body types, is built in exactly the same body size and wheelbase — to the same advanced design — with the same comfort and convenience as the "85." And it delivers V-8 smoothness at speeds up to 70 miles an hour.

Two engine sizes—but only one car and one purpose—to give you more miles and more satisfaction for your money in 1937.

Truck Law Fight Is Vital to People

Austin, Texas Dec. 31.—Keen observers of business conditions in Texas during the past ninety days are agreed that there is a decided upward swing in both wholesale and retail sales. The only really serious threat to continued and increasing prosperity is the transportation emergency now confronting manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers.

Under two recent court decisions the present Texas Motor Carrier Act has been interpreted so as to hold a concern transportaing only its own merchandise in its own trucks over the highways of Texas a "contract carrier," and subject to the regulations of the Railroad Commission.

Must Charge Freight

These regulations require the obtaining of a contract carrier's permit. Operating under that permit, a manufacturer or merchant would be required to make a definite invoice price f. o. b. point of origin, and then charge his customers for delivering that merchandise an amount not less than would be charged by the railroads on the l. c. l. railroad rate.

However, a futher provision of the law prohibits the Railroad Commission from issuing such a permit if to do so "impaires" the operation of any then exisiting public carrier, either railroad or motor freight line. The result of these two laws is to force the shipping of merchandise largely back into the hands of the railroads and necessitate retailers paying the l. c. l. railroad freight rate.

Disrupt Trade

Since a large percent of manufacturers and wholesalers distribute in their own trucks their trade territories are not restricted to the rights of ways of railroads. If they are again forced to ship largely by railroad facilities, it means these concerns must give up a great deal of trade aera. Naturally, faced with losing a large number of their customers, many of them are restricting their operations rather than expanding. This reflects upon the orders received by manufacturers, with an attendant slowing up of production.

Merchants Affected

Retailers who have been receiving their merchandise by the trucks of their wholesale houses are refusing to expand at this time for fear that they will be forced to pay a tremendously increased transportation cost as the shipper-owners' trucks are forced from the highways and the wholesalers must again ship by rail.

The whole situation has produced a chaotic condition that is particularly bad for business just at a time when increased buying on the part of the concuming public demans increased operations and expansion rather than restriction.

Bill Coming Up

Bills will be introduced in the coming session of the Legislature to rectify this condition, but it is already evident that the railroads of Texas are going to stubbornly resist any effort on the part of shipper-owners to have the law changed, and it is quite likely Texas will witness the repetition of the session of 1931 when the law was originally passed.

Railroads to Fight

At that time the railroads presented numerous resolutions from chambers of commerce, civic clubs, eatc., long petitions from Texas business men, and during the critical times originated thousands of telegrams that flooded the House and Senate, calling upon Legislature to pass restrictive truck legislation. It is almost certain, however, that Texas business men will not again allow their names to be used in such a campaign, for they realize that, technically, under the law, these privately owned delivery trucks are now classified as "for hire trucks," and that to leave the law as it now stands means not only to regulate trucks engaged in the transportation business, but to drive from the highways the very truck facilities that make it possible for them to conduct their business.

Just as Texas is commencing to get its unemployed back to work in private industry, a new unemployment threat looms on the industrial and commercial horizon.

The recent decisions, interpreting the Texas Motor Carrier Act to hold that a manufacturer or merchant transporting his own merchandise in his own trucks over the highways of Texas as the delivery incident to his business is a "contract carrier," and must obtain a contract carrier's permit, have created the emergency. Further provisions of the law prohibit the issuance of this permit with the result that literally thousands of these delivery vehicles will be taken from Texas highways and merchandise movements returned to the railroads.

Affects Thousands

Not only will elimination of these shipper-owner's trucks throw thousands of drivers, mechanics, helpers, etc., out of work, but it will go farther and make hundreds of thousands of other workers, employed by these firms, seek new employment.

Since a large percent of Texas manufacturers and wholesalers cannot operate their business without these trucks, they will be forced to close their doors, and release their employes from service; thus, not only the truck operators, but the salesmen, the warehouse men, the office forces, etc., of these concerns will be thrown out of work.

Rates Are High

It is only because of the rapid, economical distribution of merchandise by private truck that a great many retail stores are able to stay in business. Forced to pay the high l. c. l. freight rate or buy in large quantities to obtain the advantage of the car-load rate, thousands of retailers will close their doors with the result that they, too, will have to release their employes.

With the shipper-owners' trucks taken from the highways, farm products must again move by the slow, round-about and inadequate railroad facilities. This means that such agricultural products as poultry, dairy products, vegetables, fruits, etc., cannot be transported to market with sufficient speed and at a low transportation cost that will allow Texas producers to compete with other markets. This will result in the closing down of many packing sheds, poultry dressing plants, etc. These, too, will throw thousands of men out of employment.

Re-Employment Doubtful

Unfortunately, these workers will not be readily absorbed by the concerns who take the place of those forced out of business for two reasons:

First, self-directed transportation facilities have allowed industries to establish themselves in smaller towns. Naturally their employes live in these towns, and will not move to large industrial centers.

Second, increased business of firms located in rail centers will not be sufficient to absorb all the workers.

Bills will be introduced into the coming session of the Legislature to have the Texas Motor Carrier Act amended so as to permit Texas business men to carry on their affairs as during the past few years, but that there will be stubborn resistence from the railroads is becoming apparent.

Man is an animal and the science of animal husbandry has proved that well-fed stock thrives.

Return of prosperity is prompting American men to pay more attention to the conventions in dress. In displays of ready-to-wear clothing the moderately-priced "tux" has prominent place and in the sales parlors customers are trying on tail-coats.

No doubt we must pass through a considerable period of probation before we acquire the assurance of the average European in matters of dress. And one of the sorest of the trials will be in the attempt to master willful and rebellious stiff shirt fronts. What satanic prompting makes a dress shirt pop up and bulge like the bottom of a dishpan never has been accurately determined.

Perhaps a study of the subject as a Government project might justify an allotment of funds in view of the growing dress consiousness among the masses.

Hen Escapes; Shot Brings Down Hawk

Arena, Wis.—Thomas Bowden and his family, farmers near here, were at the breakfast table the other morning when they heard a great commotion in the barnyard, and rushing to the door, they saw a large hawk soaring with the chicken in its talons.

Frank Bowden grabbed a small rifle and although his target was high, fired as other members of the family jokingly remarked, "Fried chicken for dinner!" To their surprise, down came the hawk with its prey.

But the Bowdens didn't have fried chicken after all, for as the dead hawk hit the ground, the chicken scurried off unharmed.

DOCTORS HALT ODD ANTIC OF NATURE

Operation Stops Girl's Development Into Male.

Chicago. — How nature played one of its strange antics and started to change a Chicago girl into a man was disclosed by two physicians, Dr. William Saphir and Dr. Morris L. Parker.

This phenomena was stopped by an operation performed at the Michael Reese Hospital, the physicians state in their report of the unusual case in the journal of the American Medical association.

A normal girl again, the patient is being treated for the eradication of a few masculine characteristics of no importance, and can be married and rear a family like any other woman, Dr. Parker said yesterday in amplification of his scientific paper.

The girl, whom Dr. Parker refused to name, became his patient in June, 1935. She was fifteen years old, and her parents became alarmed as she suddenly took on masculine indications. Her voice began to change, hair grew on her face and she became obese.

The case was diagnosed by Dr. Saphir as a rare example of suprarenal virilism, indicating the presence of adrenal sex hormones in the ovaries.

Because the symptoms increased continuously, operation was decided upon. Exploration disclosed that all organs were in a perfect condition with the exception of the right ovary, which was enlarged.

After its removal examination showed the presence of a nest of fibrous adrenal tissue. After her convalescence the patient's masculine characteristics ceased developing.

Inspired by Brodie Many Try to Jump From Bridge

New York.—Thirty-three suicides and eight stunt-jumps from the George Washington bridge have been prevented by bridge police here since the structure was opened four and one-half years ago.

Despite this record, port authority police continue to find it necessary to maintain a constant lookout for people who want to leap 250 feet into the waters of the Hudson river.

Periodical activity of stunt performers in seeking to use the George Washington bridge as the theater for their acts has drawn a renewed warning from bridge officials.

"The person who leaps from the bridge is not only careless of his own life but he is a menace to people on craft beneath the bridge," J. E. Ramsey, general manager of the port authority, pointed out.
